DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 14-18, 19-22, 23-29, 30-33, 34-37, 42, 43 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bredal et al in view of Elder et al. The patent to Bredal et al teaches structure substantially as claimed including a top deck having a peripheral edge, foot members (609) including a cutout (u-shape section), the legs positioned at a corner (side), the only difference being that there is not a non-peripheral foot member. However, the patent to Elder et al teaches the use of a non peripheral foot member to provide additional support and rigidity to be old. It would have been obvious and well within the level of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to modify the structure of Bredal et al to include an additional foot member to provide support, as taught by Elder et al since such structures are conventional alternative members used for the same intended purpose, thereby providing structure as claimed. In response to applicant's remarks, the size of the pallet would not deter one of ordinary skill in the art to use known knowledge and engineering principles. The use of molded and integral construction is well known in the manufacture of pallets.

Claims 38-41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bredal as applied to the claims above, and further in view of Mathieu. The patent to Bredal teaches structure substantially as claimed as discussed above including feet member with cutout portions facing outwardly and adjacent a corner, the only difference being that the cutout is not symmetrical along a diagonal line. However, the patent to Mathieu teaches the use of providing an outwardly facing cutout at a diagonal of a structure to aid in stacking or nesting to be old. It would have been obvious and well within the level of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to modify the structure of Bredal to include the cutout about a diagonal, as taught by Mathieu since such structures are conventional structure used in the same intended purpose, thereby providing structure as claimed. The use of molded and integral construction is well known in the manufacture of pallets.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 08-20-03 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
